

Automated IBM i report and document distribution

Catapult is an automated report and document distribution tool that reliably delivers spool files and PC files to people in the format they want. Reports can be formatted as PDF, RTF, HTML or TXT and can be distributed via email, print, fax, network drive or a web portal.

Sending invoices, purchase orders and other reports digitally gives you an immediate ROI through reduced distribution costs. It also improves access to documents and reduces rekeying of data and reporting requests.

“Catapult has saved us money and time by reducing paper costs and improving efficiencies in our departments who rely on getting accurate information fast.”
— Brian Wyatt, CR England Inc.

Why Catapult?

Save Money

Reduce your printing, mailing and storage costs by digitally distributing reports. Some clients have reduced the paper they print by over 90%, saving them thousands of dollars per month.

Save Time

Employees save countless hours because they no longer have to file, search, print and mail paper reports by hand. Catapult also eliminates the need to rekey data into spreadsheets.

User Satisfaction

Employees, partners and customers get the information they need on time and in the format they want. They can also have 24/7, secure access to the reports from a web portal.

Improve Customer Service

Your customers receive reports and documents such as purchase orders in minutes instead of days. Accounts payable will process invoices faster and more reliably.

Security and Compliance

Catapult's security features let you control who can distribute reports. You also get a history log of all activities performed on a report. Catapult is HIPAA compliant and meets SOX requirements.

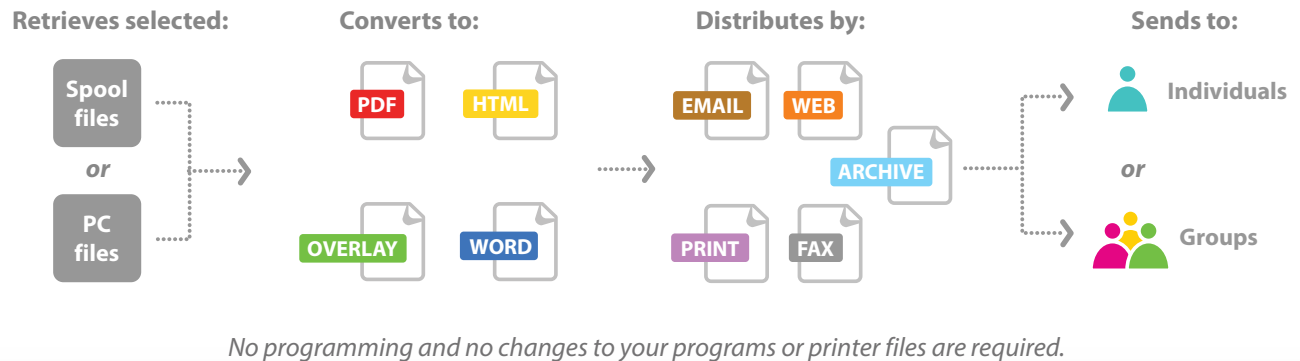

Reduce IT Reporting Burden

Reduce users' dependence on IT staff to find reports. Automated report distribution and parsing also reduce the number of reports that IT staff need to write.

Catapult's Automated Report Distribution Process

Efficient distribution in the formats people want

Catapult scans selected output queues and network directories at scheduled intervals. It looks for spool files or documents that match the criteria you define in distribution rules and delivers them according to the actions specified in the rules.

Catapult Console

Manage 'grab' (distribution) rules and groups from the Windows-based Catapult Console.

- Work with grab rules to select PC and spool files
- Manage distribution groups (i.e. address book)
- Browse distribution request and history lists
- Control who is authorized to distribute reports

Report Formatting

Transform spool files into professional-looking reports and into formats users want.

- Transform spool files to PDF, RTF, TXT or HTML
- Add form overlay images
- Compress and encrypt PDFs
- Supports bar codes, rich fonts and more

Report Selection

Retrieve and distribute spool files and documents from many different locations.

- Retrieve SCS and AFPDS spool files
- Poll unlimited output queues and IBM i systems
- Poll network directories for PC files
- Supports non-English spool files

Automated Distribution

Get automated, hands-off report distribution with the Windows-based Catapult Poller.

- Set a polling interval or daily time to process reports
- Specify move, delete and other post processing actions
- Select the output queues to poll
- Add commands to CL programs for instant distribution

Distribution & Parsing

Send full reports or only the relevant sections to people using intelligent distribution and parsing.

- Deliver reports via email, print and fax
- Archive to network drives and to a web portal
- Extract email addresses or specify them
- Route reports using distribution groups
- Parse reports so users receive pertinent information

Web Access to Reports

Give users instant and secure web access to documents and reports in the Nexus Portal.

- Auto-file reports into organized folders
- Prevent unauthorized access
- Email, view, print or download on demand
- Extract index words for more powerful searching
