Fresche Security as a Service: Comprehensive Protection for IBM i

Businesses and end users are leveraging an increasing number of IT deployment models including cloud, making data storage, access and processing more complex than ever before. This complexity opens businesses to increased risk, ransomware attacks, data theft and essentially both internal and external risks. As security leaders strive to develop and implement comprehensive security programs to protect their most important assets, they are presented with a unique set of challenges.

Benefits of Fresche Security as a Service (SECaaS)

Fresche SECaaS empowers your organization with the peace of mind that comes with safeguarding your sensitive information from modern cyber security risks. By entrusting your security to us, you can focus on driving your business forward while knowing that your valuable data remains secure and compliant.

Increased Security

Your subscription includes a baseline knowledge of your current system risks and monthly reports that will uncover security vulnerabilities.

Access To Top IBM i Security Skills

Highly skilled security experts can be costly, Fresche SECaaS gives you access to experts and leading-edge security software all in one low monthly subscription fee.

Affordable Subscription Model

Minimize capital outlay with a subscription model that provides access to skills, software & services while reducing the total cost of ownership (TCO) for your security solution.

Faster Threat Response

The security assessment included with your subscription evaluates 47 common vulnerability points on your IBM i & produces an easy-to-read report enabling you with the insight needed for where and how your systems need to be secured.

Leading-Edge Technology

Your SECaaS uses the Fresche TGSecurity Software Suite, the latest large scale security technology developed specifically for IBM i environments. Fresche SECaaS allows you to get in front of growing internal and external threats that continue evolve.

Proactive Risk Mitigation

Fresche SECaaS empowers you to take proactive measures against potential risks. With timely insights into vulnerabilities, you can swiftly implement necessary changes, minimizing exposure & ensuring the ongoing safety of your critical data.
